OGLE COUNTY HISTORY

What is now Ogle County was once a part of the Northwest Territory. In 1809, the Territory of Illinois was formed and included Wisconsin and Peninsular Michigan. In 1818, Illinois, in its present boundaries, became the 21st State to join the Union.

Ogle County was formed in 1836, from a part of Jo Daviess County. The name, Ogle, was suggested by Thos. Ford in memory of Capt. Joseph Ogle who distinguished himself for his courage and coolness in the early days of the State's history.

The first session of the Ogle County Commissioners' Court was held at Oregon on January 3, 1837, and Oregon was chosen to be the County seat. Because there was so much dissension, efforts were made to divide the County and on February 27, 1839, the Legislature approved an act creating Lee County out of the southern half of Ogle County, with Dixon as its County seat.

In December 1839, the County Board ordered the town of Oregon to be called Florence; in 1843, however, it was renamed Oregon. Names of other towns were once different than those used today. Rochelle was once called Lane; Byron was called Bloomingville; Polo was called Buffalo Grove and St. Mary's.

Plans for a courthouse were adopted on December 4, 1838, and in 1841, the building was completed - only to be burned before it could be occupied. The present courthouse was completed for occupancy in 1891, at a total cost of $106,951.46 for building and equipment.

On November 6, 1849, the electorate voted for township organization and the Commissioners' Court appointed three men to divide the County in towns. Their report, filed February 5, 1850, named nineteen townships, comprising an area of 757 sq. mi. The first special meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held November 11, 1850.

In 1972, in compliance with the State Legislature's decision on reapportionment, Ogle County held its first election to elect County Board members. The county was divided into four districts, with six members from each district. This replaced the system whereby the township supervisors served as the County Board. A supervisor may also be a County Board member but not necessarily.

Three State Parks located in Ogle County:

White Pines State Park is located on Pines Road between Polo and Oregon.

Lowden Memorial Park is one mile north of Oregon on the East Side of Rock River; Lorado Taft's famous Blackhawk statue is located in this park.

Castle Rock State Park is on Illinois Route 2 South of Oregon.

Other Places of Interest in Ogle County:

Lowden-Miller State Forest is located 5 miles South of Oregon on South Lowden Road.

Weld Park, in Marion Twp, was given to the County to maintain as a County Park.

Sinnissippi Farms southeast of Oregon in Oregon/Nashua Township is the home of former Governor Frank O. Lowden.

Lowden Boy Scout Camp and Camp Medill McCormick for Girl Scouts

In 1962, the Ogle County Historical Society opened a museum in the Ruby Nash home in Oregon. This is open to the public on weekends during the summer months.

John Deere Historic Site located in Grand Detour south of Oregon.

A renovation of the interior of the Old Courthouse was completed in 1984, at a cost of $1,500,000.00. The Old Courthouse was renovated again in July of 2009, with the discovery of "Memorial Hall" on the third floor.

The Ogle County Judicial Center was built in 2005 and dedicated on August 20, 2005. The Judicial Center houses the Probation Department, States Attorney Office, Circuit Clerk's Office and all courts for Ogle County.

In 2006, the Arts Alliance of Ogle County donated "Agriculture: Mother of Civilization" statue which sits in front of the Judicial Center.
